Harris III- Keynote Speaker

What if the real secret to unlimited creativity and innovation had everything to do with how you use your imagination? It’s a common myth that imagination is something every child readily uses, then stops using as we grow up. However, what if that wasn’t the case? In this transformative speech, Harris will make you aware of the dark side of your imagination, how it’s being mis-used and wasted, and how to tap into an unlimited potential to create and innovate by reawakening child-like wonder.
